

Certified Lactation Specialist Course

Scholarship Application

The Northern Indiana Lactation Consultant Association is offering two partial (50%) scholarships for those who want to gain education and expertise in lactation support to benefit moms and babies in the region.

The scholarships can be used for the Online Certified Lactation Specialist Course taught by Lactation Education Consultants and offered on either of the following dates: a.) September 20-24 or b.) October 6-8 & 11-12. Both courses are fully online. This application is for a partial scholarship; applicants are responsible for securing payment for the remainder of the fee.

To be considered, please complete the following application and e-mail it to the scholarship committee at Northerninlca@gmail.com

If the scholarship is granted, attendees will be notified by email or phone no later than two weeks after the application deadline. Awardees will then be provided instructions for registration. If the awardee is not able to complete the course for any reason, notification is expected so that the funds can be allocated to another applicant.

Deadline for applications to be accepted is August 1, 2021.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out via email.

Name of Applicant _____

Address _____

Current employer and position _____

Email _____ Phone Number _____

In what ways have you already learned about breastfeeding or supported breastfeeding so far?

In what capacity would you use this certification to promote breastfeeding/breastmilk feeding in your community? About how many hours/week?
